

How do I login from home?

It is not necessary to login in order to search the electronic portal or use some of the resources. In order to utilize the Alabama Virtual Library links and links to our fee-based resources [CINAHL and Science Direct], however, you must login with your J number and PIN from the Off-Campus Users link in the center of the portal's home page.

If you are off-campus, when you select the link from the Off-Campus Users option, you will be taken to a login page. Once you login with your J number and PIN, you will be returned to the portal home page and may begin using all the resources without having to login to several different databases or websites.

Please note that in order to review your library account, you must select that option from the portal and log into the library system. Logging into the Off-Campus access does not automatically route you to your library account.
